THE KROEGER PIANO.

Testimonial to Agent Bergstrom
From a Celebrated Pianist.

(P. C. Advertiser, January 10 1896.)

Honolulu, H. I., December 28, 1895.

J. W. BERGSTROM, AGENT KROEGER PIANO.

DEAR SIR:—It gives me much pleasure to testify to the merits of the Kroeger Cabinet Grand piano used by me at the series of concerts given at the Y. M. C. A. Hall by the Ovide Musin Concert Company.

The piano has a very superior tone quality and the action is perfect. I was very fortunate in securing such an instrument.

Yours very faithfully,

EDWARD SCHAEF,

Musin Concert Company.

PROMINENT MAN DEAD.

John T. Waterhouse Expired
Yesterday.

HEART FAILURE WAS THE CAUSE.

Over-worked During the Cholera Siege.
Ill Several Weeks—Died Without a Struggle—Prominent in Business and Church Circles—Funeral Today.

John T. Waterhouse died of heart failure at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his residence on Wylie street.

Mr. Waterhouse has been suffering from a complication of dis-shortly after succeeding their father in the conduct of their large business interests.

For twenty years, it may be said, John T. Waterhouse was one of the leading business men in Honolulu.
He has been connected with the Board of Health for a longer period than any other member, and during W. O. Smith's absence has acted as president of that body.

He was superintendent of the Central Union Sabbath school for many years, was a member of the choir committee for at least twenty years, and at the time of his death was a deacon of the church. He was a member of the board of trustees of the Queen's Hospital, the Sailors' Home, and during the reign of Kalaukua was a member of the Privy Council of State.

No one in Honolulu had a greater reputation for integrity and honesty of purpose, in business, official or private life, than Mr.
Waterhouse. He had the respect and esteem of every one with whom

JOHN THOMAS WATERHOUSE.

eases for several months and several times he has been confined to his house in consequence. During the cholera siege Mr. Waterhouse was very active in the affairs of the Board of Health and overexerted himself in the performance of his duties as a member of the Board of Health and never seemed to recover his strength.

A few weeks ago he suffered an attack of stomach trouble which confined him to his bed and his condition fluctuated between better and worse until yesterday. In the meantime he had contracted a bad cold, which developed into congestion of the lungs. Then he was attacked with rheumatism of the heart and his death was directly due to heart failure.

Sunday night was the best night he had experienced for weeks, and yesterday he told his family he felt much better. His brother called as usual in the morning and noted at the marked improvement in him.

In the afternoon, but a moment before he expired, he told the man who was in the room to step outside, and then addressed Mrs.
Waterhouse, saying: "Sit down here by the bed where I can see you. I feel faint." A moment later, like the flickering of a candle, his life went out. John T.
Waterhouse, the prosperous merchant, was dead.

The deceased leaves a widow and eight children. Fred, the oldest son, is cashier in his father's store; Ernest is studying medicine in the College of Physicians in New York; John is at Princeton College, from which institution he will graduate in June, and George is a junior in the same college. The four daughters are at home, the youngest attending Punahou.

Mr. Waterhouse was born in Tasmania July 17, 1841, and came here with his parents when nine years of age. He was given an education in the Punahou school from which place he graduated.
Directly his education was finished he entered his father's mercantile house as clerk.

In 1871 feeling the necessity for an active man to watch the markets in England, the deceased was prevailed upon by his father to proceed to London and fill the post of resident buyer in that city.
He remained there for eighteen months and then returned to Honolulu and entered into active business with his brother Henry, he came in contact, from the business man of capital and influence to men in the most humble walks of life.

He was devoted to the interests of Central Union church and was always consulted in matters concerning the welfare of that institution. In business, as well as social life, he will be sadly missed.

The funeral, conducted by H. H.
Williams, will take place from his late residence on Wylie street at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

NEW MEMORIAL HALL.

Hon. C. R. Bishop's Gift to Kamehameha School.

Architect Ripley is soon to begin work on plans and specifications for a new memorial chapel for Kanehameha School. This new hall is to be the gift of Hon. C. R. Bishop, and will cost between $50,000 and $60,000. It will be located near the King street entrance to the boys' school, so that it will be easy of access for the members of all the departments.

The edifice will be used solely as an assembly hall for church services and entertainments and will be large enough to easily accommodate all the members of both the boys' and girls' school.

The present assembly hall will be used for school work. The new building will be of stone and will be a substantial and attractive addition to the buildings of the institution.

SUGAR FROM EGYPT.

Going Into Atlantic Ports in Good Quantities.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17.— Twelve thousand three hundred tons of sugar are now afloat on the way to this port from Alexandria, Egypt. These cargoes are on board of British tramp steamers, and are due here about March 1st. The importation of large quantities of Egyptian sugar is a new thing, made necessary through the apprehension that the Cuban crops, by reason of the war, will be very poor.
In addition to this large quantity, considerable sugar is being shipped from Hamburg in British steamships and from Honolulu in American clipper ships.

SPEAK FOR ARBITRATION

Expression of British Minds in the House of Commons.

LATE FOREIGN NEWS GLEANINGS.

Cuban Insurgents in Havana Province.
Corean King in St. Petersburg—Fiji Land Claims—Armenian Blue Book Record.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The debate on the address in reply to the Queen's speech was continued in the House of Commons today.

Atherly-Jones, the Liberal member for the northwest division of Durham, then moved the following amendment:

"And while we are glad to hear that her majesty's relations with foreign powers continue to be friendly, we deplore that her majesty's speech does not contain an assurance that all matters of difference between this country and the republic of Venezuela in relation to the delimitation of the frontier of that state and British Guiana be referred to arbitration in accordance with the request of the Government of the United States."

In moving in the amendment Mr.
Atherly-Jones said he thought the Government should be grateful for the opportunity to ascertain the opinion of the House of Commons on the policy it ought to pursue. In accepting the amendment in that spirit, he continued, it would only be following the example of President Cleveland, who asked the opinion of Congress upon the measure submitted to Great Britain.

He said that since 1841 England had seven times changed the line marking the limit of her claim. In the face of these facts, how could it be contended by Great Britain that the Schomburgh line was outside the pale of arbitration? Having expressed dissatisfaction at Lord Granville's treatment of the question in 1881, he protested against the assumption that the action of the United States Government was only an election dodge.
We ought not to judge the action of the Government, the speaker continued, by President Cleveland and Secretary Olney's dispatches, but by the friendly representations received subsequently.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Liberal Leader in the House of Commons, spoke as follows:

"I believe the real points of difference between the two Governments is insignificant. But nothing is so dangerous as to leave disputes of this kind to the ignorant prejudices of the people, who do not understand the question. I venture to suggest to Atherly-Jones that, after the statement the Government has made, it would be useless to pursue his motion to a division, which would entirely misrepresent the feeling of the House, besides doing infinite injury in America. I see no manner of settling this question except to encourage support of the Government in a course which, if followed, will most speedily and successfully lead to a good understanding between England and the United States." (Cheers.)

Atherly-Jones then withdrew his amendment.

John Dillon objected to the withdrawal, and an altercation with the Speaker ensued, but the latter refused to uphold the objection.

Embassador Bayard had an interview with the Marquis of Salisbury on the subject of the Venezuelan boundary dispute.

MACEO IN HAVANA PROVINCE.
Rebels Again Advancing Toward the Spanish Stronghold.

HAVANA, Feb. 17.—Antonio Maceo is fairly within the province of Havana and east of the Batabano tro-cha, and if he has not joined forces with Gomez, he is in a position to do so when he pleases. Large forces of insurgents are also within the reach of Matanzas province, where they are overrunning the country and doing much damage. The whereabouts of Maximo Gomez is not known, as he has not led any large aggressive movements for some time. He seems to have lapsed into a condition of seeming apathy, like that which characterized his stay in Puerto Principe, while Antonio Maceo was waging an aggressive campaign in Santiago de Cuba.
As that period of seeming apathy on Gomez' part terminated with his eruption into Santa Clara, and his dashing march westward almost to the gates of Havana, showing how busy he had been in making effective preparations, the authorities do not allow themselves to count much upon his present quietude.

The last reported Gomez he was in the neighborhood of Antonio de Las Vagas, a little west of the center of Havana province. This town has been, to a large extent, the headquarters of the insurgents for some time past, and has been in their hands. In fact, a number of the officials of the town went over to the insurgents.

Germans Agree to Argue.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The President today sent to Congress the correspondence with the German Government relating to the exclusion of American insurance companies from Germany. The German Government consents to reopen the question.

MASSACRED 25,000.
Blue Book on Armenian Outrages.
Horrible Record.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Another Blue Book on Armenia was published today, the dispatches covering the period between September 3, 1893, and February 11, 1896. It contains data prepared by the committee of delegates from the Embassies of the six powers, showing the total number of persons massacred, concerning whose fate accurate information has been obtained, is 25,000.

The Under Secretary of the Foreign Office, George N. Curzon, replying in the House of Commons today to questions, said the powers had not informed Russia that her occupation of Armenia would not be objected to.
Such occupation, he added, without the consent of the Sultan, would be in violation of the treaties of Paris and Berlin. Curzon also said the statement of the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, Prince Lobanoff Rostovsky, that Russia was willing to undertake to maintain order in Armenia was spontaneous.

COREA'S KING IN RUSSIA.

Takes Refuge in St. Petersburg—Regarded as Significant Move.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The Herald's special from St. Petersburg says: The young King of Corea has arrived here with the object of seeking the protection of Russia for his country.
His visit is being kept a profound secret. Those who have been let into the knowledge of his presence here look upon the news as of high importance in connection with Russia's Eastern policy.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The officials of the Foreign Office confirm the newspaper report that a detachment of British marines, among others, have been landed at Chemulpo and sent to Seoul, capital of Corea, in order to protect the British Legation there.

TOO BIG TO SUBMIT.

American Claims for Damages in Fiji are Large on Paper.

President today sent a message to the Senate in answer to a resolution of inquiry, transmitting a report from the State Department upon the claims for compensation of B. H. Henry and other citizens of Oregon for lands on the Fiji Islands taken by the British authorities. The report shows that the claimants were rather severely treated by the British commissioners, which adjusted the titles to lands on the islands in the application of very technical rules. Incidentally the Secretary of State calls attention to the fact that he is prevented from submitting all the documents called for by the Senate by reason of their great bulk.

Sexton Will Not Lead.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—In response to the letter addressed to him by Timothy Healy, Thomas Sexton has finally refused to accept the leadership of the Irish party, notwithstanding Healy's earnest appeal to him to do so and the promise of the hearty support of the Healeys.
